

My hopes are that the FCC ("The Commission") will expedite continued licensing of new LPFM stations. I have been waiting for the next filing window(s) to submit my application. I missed the window for filing due to being stationed overseas in military service but am now retired. I have been waiting for three, going on four years for the next window(s) to open. I hope this is soon.